

THE GOODS

Your source for what's new, novel, and essential

1. The Viennese Secessionists, active in the early part of the twentieth century, were a group of artists and artisans intent on breaking with long-entrenched aesthetic traditions, as evidenced by this antique Viennese panel, circa 1900/1910, 26" x 26", available at Carol Piper Rugs. carolpiperrugs.com

2. It is not easy to reinvent leather, but Jerry Pair Leather has created its Mootual Attraction line, seen here in Brunette. The process involves dyeing full-grain leather and enhancing it with a special pigment to ensure for color consistency. jerrypairleather.com

3. Sometimes, the simplest of designs make for the strongest aesthetic statements. The Stainless Steel Lights horizontal mailbox, from Bevolo Gas & Electric Lights, is fully approved by the U.S. postal service. bevolo.com

4. Wabi Sabi is the Japanese idea of appreciating imperfections. Phillip Jeffries honors this ancient philosophy with its raffia wall coverings, each roll characterized by thick backing paper and rewoven in a multistep artisanal process. phillipjeffries.com

5. An antique pillow by Rebecca Vizard, features a silver and gold embroidered applique of "The Pelican in Her Piety," and is framed with antique silver braiding on silver velvet. Hand trimmed with vintage cording. Fireside Antiques. firesideantiques.com

6. The Jelani ottoman, 20" h. x 20 1/2" diam., from Bernhardt, is as practical as it is sculptural. The item works as both an ottoman and as an additional seat in a living or family room. bernhardt.com

7. The Alden bench, in Bisque linen, is detailed with quilted channeling and oak-finished alder legs. The bench lends a modern mood to any space. Its neutral linen upholstery is filled with foam, One Kings Lane. onekingslane.com

8. Artisan Melissa Schmidt crafted her Glass Bubble bracelet from durable borosilicate glass; each blown-glass sphere has a marbled surface design. The spheres are affixed to a sterling-silver base. melissaschmidtstudio.com

9. Vintage Moroccan rugs, such as this example, 4' 4" x 8', from Matt Camron Rugs & Tapestries, are noted for their distinctive detailing and patterns. The border features a multi-colored repeating pattern. mattcamron.com

10. The Yves console table, 72" w. x 20" d. x 34"h., from Ebanista is made of wrought iron with a weathered Brun finish and antiqued 12K white gold detailing. The top is comprised of three antiqued mirrored pieces. ebanista.com

11. Every detail and hue in a painting or other work of art in your home is fully revealed under the Holly picture light, from Mitzi by Hudson Valley Lighting, here shown in an aged brass, with white detailing. littmanbrands.com

12. Branches and Nests, an artwork by Joe Walters, 60" x 60", is composed of polymer clay, metal rod and mesh, glue, sand, and paint, and is available from the Baton Rouge-based Ann Connelly Fine Art. annconnelly.com

13. A terracotta lion plate, available from the Los Angeles-based Formations, references a centuries-old design, though the piece is newly crafted. The shallow plate is edged with a Greek Key-motif design. formationsusa.com

14. The 1598-01 chair, 27" w. x 26" d. x 30" h., from Lee Industries, shown here in Canyon Indigo fabric, features an oak frame in a pecan finish with an exposed wood outback and a French seam on the seat. leeindustries.com

15. Cobble leather in Dato utilizes an innovative Dual-Tone Patent Process in which the leather is color glazed and stringently polished, resulting in a rich surface luster that sparkles like wet pavement, from Tiger Leather. tigerleather.com

16. The Charles Paris Potences side table, with its brass and glass top, assumes a minimal, understated presence in any room, though the piece has many practical uses and functions. Available at George Cameron Nash. georgecameronnash.com

17. The Oomph TV console is low and linear with auxiliary storage. With its tailoring and subtle sophistication, the console exemplifies understated luxury; with topstitched leather doors and drawers and a cerused oak silhouette.
